

THE POST

For diuers partes of the world : to trauaile from one notable Citie vnto an other, with a description of the antiquitie of diuers famous Cities in Europe. The contents doe farther appeare in the next leafe following.

¶ Very necessary & profitable for Gentlemen, Marchants, Factors, or any other persons disposed to trauaile . The like not heretofore in English.

Published by Richard Rowlands.

Imprinted at London
by Thomas Cast, 1576.

A Briefe description of the antiquitie of diuers famous cities in Europe.

The vvayes and most vsed passages, from one notable citie to another, in Germany, Bohemia, Hungaria, Polonia, Lyttaw, and the low countries, vvith Italy Fraunce, England, Spayne, and Portingale.

The value of the coyne vsed in sundry Regions.

Also the principall Fayres and Marketts. VVith the varietie of Myles.

TO THE RIGHT

worshipfull, Syr Thomas Gresham Knight. R. Rowlands wisheth continual encrease of renowned worship and Vertue.

AFTER that I (Right vvorshipfull) had perused thys small Pamflet, conteyninge a briefe collection of the most vseall and accustomable wayes, leadeinge from the one notable Citie in Europe, to an other: being vvritten vvith no smal labour and industry, and not vvithout great cause very necessarily published in the high Almaine tongue, and the like also to be seene in the French, and Italian. I thought it a thing very vncurtuous, and vvorthy of reproofe, to vvithould so needefull a comoditie any longer from our vougare spech, vvhereby I vvvas the more imboldened to the finishing nishing therof, at such times as I might best attēd vpon the same. I haue moreover, set downe the antiquitie of many cities vvorthy of memory, & the founders of their auncient monuments, the vvhich I haue diligently collected out of sundry approued aucthors. It resteth now that I therein most humbly craue your good vvorships furtheraunce, (as of one most vvorthy, for your great experience and trauailes, into forreyne Realmes, in the Princes vvaighty affaires, as it is not vnknowne,) so that thereby it might the better, vnder your protection, passe forth into the handes of many. And although (right vvorshipfull) this brieue collection, doth contain no pleasant history, nor delightful new deuised matter, yet doubtlesse a thinge of necessitie to be desired, especially of all suche Gentlemen as are adicted to trauaile, vvhich hetherto haue vvanted the same: beside Marchants, or Factors, in forreyne countries, dispersed as their trafique requireth. But to be brieue, I cease further to reherse perticularly the commodities thereof. Desiring your vvorship to take in good part, the first frutes of my labours, trusting hereafter (if God lend me good successe) to impart vnto your vvorship, some further matter of more delight or pleasure in the reading thereof. And thus I desire almightie God to preferue you, vvith your verteous Lady, in health and prosperous felicitie.

*Your worshippes most bounden to

A Prayer.

¶ A godly prayer, very needefull to be vsed and sayde, before any Iorney be taken in hand.

Orde Iesus Chrifte, with thy almightie euerlasting & heauenly Father, in vnitie with the holy Ghost, very true and euertliuinge God, as thou viddest leade the childzen of Israell out of the lande of Egipt, into the lande of Promise, through the vnfrequented Wildernesse, in great safe-tie, in the daye tyme by a Cloude, and in the darke night by a Fire Piller: Euen thou O Lorde, which dyddest guyde the Wyle men from the rysing of the Sunne vnto Bethlem, and home againe into their owne countrie by a Starre, pseruinge them from all hartes and daungers. So likewise, O heauenly Father, I most humbly desire thee, that in this my Journey, thou wilt be my guide and protectour, that I may accomplish and bring this my way to an ende, in health, and glad-nesse: Pserue and keepe me from all perills

A Prayer.

perills of Soule and body, so that by thy fatherly protection, I may ouer-come all perills and daungers, through Iesus Chrifte thyne onely welbeloued sonne our Lord and Sauour. Amen.

¶ Here foloweth the varietie of myles.

Gentle Reader, whē thou shalt finde in this Booke Italian Myles, then maist thou know, that. 5. Italian Myles containe one Germane Myle.

When thou fyndest French Myles, then thre French Myles doe contayne one Germane Myle.

If thou fyndest Spanish Myles, they are equall in lengthe vnto Germane Myles.

If thou fyndest English Myles, then doe. 5. English Myles make two Germane Myles.

If thou shalt see Hungarian Myles, then accompt two Hungarian Myles for thre Germane Myles.

If thou fyndest Switzers Myles, then accompt two Switzers Myles for thre Germane Myles.

CITIE Reader, I thought it good, to aduertise thee, y I haue orderly marked in the margent, by certaine letters, whereby thou shalt know which are Cities, Villages, or houses of Religion, lying in the way. (as thus) The letter C for a Citie: the letter M for a Market Town: K for a Kloyster: and the letter V for a Village, & so forth. And on the other side the Myles from one place to another: and for the halfe Myle, this letter. d.

¶ Here foloweth the most vsed wayes and passages from one notable Citie in Germany, vnto another. With certain brief descriptions of the antiquities of diuers Cities. And first of Augspurge.

The Citie of Augspurge, is of great antiquitie, taking the name after the Emperour Augustus, & after many conflictes, had of the Romans, began to flourish, but of late yeares it is so encreased, in all aboundance of riches, and gorgious buildinges, that the like Citie is not found in all Germany. Beside that, for merchandise it may compare with any citie in Europe, forasmuch as their trafique stretcheth through all places, as well in Africa, as in Europe.

The Citie of Mentz, was of auncient tyme callid Mo-gountia, and lay not at the first so nigh the Riuer of Rhein, as it now doth, as plainly appeareth by a wall & foundation of the citie, yet to be seene, which standith on the side beyond the same citie: But where the citie now standith, there was at the first a Boolwerke or hold, in defence of the citie, against the Germanes, who foudid this citie, at the first it is not perfectly knowne, but doubtlesse it is a citie of great Antiquitie, and lieth very pleasantly, whereas the Riuer of Mayn doth flow down from Franckforde, and the Riuer Rehn, also defending from the highe countrie, there is no citie on the Rehn, whereas more aunciēt Monuments are found, Claudius Drusus about the tyme of the Emperour Augustus, e-rectid in this citie, for an euerlasting memory, a huge Rocke like vnto a Towre of stone, the which there is yet to be seene, the Emperonr Iulianus when hee warred with the Germans, made at this citie a bridg ouer the Re-hin, and after him the Emperonr Charles the great, by great labour and cost, foundid an other bridg on the Re-hin, the which was 5. hundrith paces long, for so broad the Rehin runnith in that place, but this bridg cōtinued not long, for it was after consumed with fire, in the space of three houvres, and nothing of the said bridg remayned, but the foundation being vnder the vvater. It is said about the yeare. 425 that Saint Albaine, for the faith of Christ vvas martyred in this citie.

THE people enhabiting about the citie of Colen, before the byrth of Christ, were called the Vbi, and this was the principall and chiefe citie (although not called by this name) but after the enhabitants there about, the Romans kept themselues of auncient tyme in this citie, vwhen as they hild continuall wares vvith the Germans, the Emperor Iulius Ceafer, in short tyme built a bridge of vwood ouer rhe riuer of Rheyn, vvich runneth alongst this citie, by meanes vvhereof, he might alwaies geue assault on the Germans. Aftervvardes in tract of tyme, vvhen the citie was repayred vvith curious and costly buildings, then was the bridge made vvith stone, for the surer passing ouer: but vvho founded the same it is not knowvn. And after the Bishop Bruno by commaundement of the Emperour Otto the first, brake down the saide bridge to the ground, bicause that many robberies & murthers were comitted on the sayd bridge by night. The citie of Colen, after that the people called the Vbi, had the possession thereof, it was named Agrippina, of Marcus Agrippa, & so it continued long after vnder the Romans

Romans, vnto the tyme of Marcomyrus king of France, vvho draue the Romans from thence, about the yeare of our Lord. 400. and called the citie Colonia. After that, was the citie taken againe from the French kinge, by a Duke of Saxony, vvho was then created Emperour. In the yeare 1388. was the Vniuersitie of Colen created, & the priuileges thereof confirmed.

Straßburg is a citie of great antiquitie, & hath beene called of the Romans Argentoratum, the citie was firste vnder those of Trier, and afterward subdued by the Romans, & thirdly vnder the possessiō of the French kings. Clodoneus the first christened king of Fraunce, founded therein the great Minster of our Lady, and established there also a Bishops see, and after by meanes of the sayd Bishop, is the citie wonne again to be the habitation of the Germans. In this citie is founde such a maruelous worcke, that the like is neither found in Germany, Italic, nor yet in any country, it is a very faire and high steeple, very curiously and cunningly garnished from the foundation to the top, very strange and wonderful to the beholders. It might well be added vnto the seven vvonders of the vvorld, and make vp the eight.

The citie Regenspurg, was long called Ratispona; the which name it yet retaineth in the Latine. It is found to be either built or newly reedified by Tiberius the Emperour, and at that tyme called Tiberina. In the yeare 1114. was built the stone bridge hauing .24. arches ouer the riuer Thonaw or Danubie, which passeth alongst the citie. The learned and famous Philosopher Albertus Magnus, was Bishop of this citie in Anno. 1262. but afterward for his great desire of natural Science, he gaue ouer the Bishopricke and departed to Colen, whereas he studied many yeares, dyed and was there buried.

 ready way to vnderstand the valuation of the coine or minte in the principall Regions, Landes, and Cities.

Entle reader, although the varietie of the Mintes in diuers countries is great, by reason of the goodnes and delay of the mettals, and also the diuersitie of places and prouin-ces, and the alteration of the successours of them, whereby it is ofte times changed, augmented, or debated; I will therefore note down the chiefe coyne which passeth furthest thorowe the handes of the marchaunts, wherby any in buying or sellinge maye the easiest make vp hys accompte and reco-
